Objective

The main goal of this project is the efficient use of SQL queries and Entity Relationship Diagrams (ERD) for the purpose of extracting complex information from the database encompassing the list of Fuel And Gasoline Tax Registrants. This project will enable consumers, clients and dealers to gain insights about queries to identify the business entities which have been authorised by the Canadian Ministry of Finance to deal with petrol, such as petrol, propane, petrol, and diesel fuel.

Data-Source

The whole database 'Fuel and Gasoline Tax Registrants' originated from the site of Ontario Data Catalogue by the Ministry of Finance under the authorisation of the Federal Government.

Schema-Diagram

The following Schema diagram provides the visual representation of database structures.

As it can be observed from the above Entity Relationship Diagram, the database consists of four tables which can be explained as follows:-

a) Date_modification_details:

Primary Key: Date_modified

Description:

This table stores information about registrants who have renewed their registration details. It includes the date of modification and registrants' names. The "Date Modified" column serves as the primary key for this table.

b) Address_details:

Primary Key: Address

Description:

This table contains information about addresses, including the city name, province, postal code, and country of origin. The "Address" column acts as the primary key for this table.

c) Registrants:

Primary Key: Registrant_name

Foreign Key: Date_modied

Description:

This table provides detailed information about business entities, including their names, city names, and renewal dates. The "Registrant Name" column serves as the primary key, and it has a foreign key relationship with the "Date Modified" column from the "Date Modification Details" table.

d) Professional_details:

Primary Key: Professional_objective

Foreign Key: Reigstrant_name, Address

Description:

This table contains information about business entities' professional objectives related to fuel and gasoline products, as well as their names and addresses. The "Professional Objective" column is the primary key, and it has foreign key relationships with the "Registrant Name" column from the "Registrants" table and the "Address" column from the "Address Details" table.
